Overview

A hand-knotted blend of wool and cotton, the bold hues weave together to create intricate patterns that are accented by delicate fringe. Following a technique and tradition dating back thousands of years, each hand-knotted rug can take two to three skilled weavers five to six weeks to complete, depending on the size and intricacy of each rug. Every hand-knotted rug is designed to wear beautifully over time, making them heirlooms to be passed down for generations.
