FOUR HANDS

Composicion Vibracionsita, 1918 by Rafael Barradas

Rustic Walnut Floater · 256428-001

Overview

Rafael Barradas was born in Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1890. While traveling throughout Europe, the almost entirely self-taught artist discovered movements including Futurism and Cubism, leading to the development of his own style called Vibrationism. He is considered an innovative and significant personality in both Spanish and Uruguayan art history. A hand-selected piece from the exclusive partnership between Rosenstiels and Four Hands. Rosenstiels is a family-owned art publisher known for producing high-quality prints, limited editions and wall art, based in London since 1880. Handmade in Austin, Texas.
