The Collection

Introduction

Tradition and innovation, industry, and craftsmanship: the Alessi identity has been forged on the constant pursuit of balance between these languages. The aim was to investigate the company's production history and, in particular, the expressive possibilities of metalworking through the vision and design of Philippe Starck.

The Poêle Collection, in its literal reference to the "frying pan", enhances Alessi's identity production capabilities - the steel household - and explicitly claims its own compositional inspiration.

The result is a collection of small furnishings in which the metal element takes on a surprisingly fluid texture, enveloping the wooden elements in an unexpectedly organic way. A collection capable of fitting into any environment, in the home as well as in the office or in high-end contract décor.
