The luxuriousness of mother-of-pearl has been prized in interiors through the ages, and the Gerri Dot Tray Set, which includes a larger and smaller decorative tray, is a fine example of the artisanship that has given the material lasting appeal. Made of wood, the pair of larger-than-average trays are made of gleaming pieces of shell, which have been expertly placed along the sides, tops, and bottoms of the trays. These trays are not food safe and cold nor hot items should not be placed directly on them.
