In the Currey & Company fashion of producing exemplary designs in faux bois, the Dunmore Accent Table has a striated texture that makes it feel so convincingly like wood, it lives up to its centuries-old designation. Furthering the natural feel is the Charbon de Bois finish applied to the entire piece, and the top, which is formed to look like it has the life rings of a real tree. The way the root-like formations on the base twist is a graceful element to the design.
