The Galatea Chandelier is made of wrought iron in a warm brass finish and fitted with half-moon panels of natural laminated Capiz shell. Designed with nine lights, the fixture allows the shell to gleam softly when illuminated. The half-moon shapes are mounted to a series of rings, the largest positioned at the center, with smaller tiers tapering toward the top and bottom to form a balanced, sculptural silhouette.

The fixture has nine lights and is dimmable; because the shells are a natural material, there will be some variation in them.
