The Henrietta Pink Table Lamp is made of mold-blown glass that narrows at the base and swells dramatically toward the top to create a bold, sculptural profile.

The glass body rests on a stepped optic crystal base and is finished with a polished nickel cap. Its striking form is inspired by a vase designed by Heinrich Löffelhardt in 1970, bringing a touch of vintage modern design into the piece.

Because it is made of an artisanal material, its surface may vary slightly from lamp to lamp.
