

Povera Round Dining Table Black

One column, one bold statement. The Povera round dining table rises from a single ribbed pedestal whose soft grooves echo the movement of ripples on still water. Carved from solid acacia wood, the black finish reveals a quiet purple undertone and lets the natural grain patterns do what they do best—make each table genuinely its own. The round top keeps conversation flowing and gives everyone an equal seat at the table. Simple geometry, real character.

- Sculptural Pedestal: A single ribbed column supports the round top, its grooved surface adding a wave-like texture that makes the base a focal point.
- Solid Acacia Wood: Finished in a deep black with a soft purple undertone that lets the natural grain of each piece of acacia come through clearly.
- Distinct by Nature: Variations in grain, knots, and wood patterning give each table its own individual character and markings that no other piece will share.
- Seats Four Comfortably: The round top and single pedestal base provide an even seating arrangement for four, with the column centered to keep legroom clear all around.
