

Ferris Dining Chair Green

Ferris is where soft seating meets strong lines. A sculpted upholstered back curves with the frame, creating a cohesive silhouette that feels considered from every angle. The black iron base features a subtly hammered, hand-worked texture, finished with small turned accents at the top corners for a refined touch. With a generously cushioned seat and back, it's built for lingering dinners — not quick perches. Upholstered in 100% recycled polyester in a confident green, it brings color that still plays nice.

- Curved, Composed Profile: Sculpted upholstered back mirrors the frame's graceful curve, giving the chair a cohesive look that feels intentional around the table.
- Recycled Upholstery Cover: Upholstered in 100% recycled polyester in green, bringing a fresh hit of color while staying soft, durable, and dining-ready.
- Hand-Worked Iron Detail: Black iron frame features a subtly hammered texture with small turned corner accents, adding crafted character without visual heaviness.
- Cushioned Comfort Layers: Foam cushioning in the seat and back supports longer meals, while a plywood base helps the chair feel steady and well-structured.
