

Lia Round Dining Table Dark Brown

If your dining area could talk, it would ask for this table. Lia keeps things warm and grounded with a round top that makes every seat feel included. The angled legs add just enough visual intrigue—like a subtle architectural move—while the dark brown mango wood brings richness without feeling heavy. Comfortably seating four, it’s made for weeknight pasta, weekend coffee, and the kind of conversations that linger. Pull up a chair and stay awhile.

- Gather-Round Shape: A clean round silhouette that encourages easy conversation and keeps the room feeling open, even when everyone’s settled in.
- Mango Wood Warmth: Made from mango wood in a dark brown finish that adds depth and natural character to both airy and moodier dining spaces.
- Angled-Leg Design: Each leg is positioned at an angle for a dynamic, sculptural base that feels design-forward while staying visually light.
- Seats Four Comfortably: Comfortably seats four, making it a smart fit for smaller dining areas, breakfast nooks, and open-plan layouts.
