

Orion Tray

Sometimes all a table needs is one long, confident line. Orion is an extra-long iron tray in an aged patina finish—minimal enough to disappear into the room, and strong enough to hold the center of it. The classic shape leans transitional, so it plays well with everything from rustic textures to clean modern pieces. Use it as a dining table centerpiece, then keep swapping what lives inside.

- Minimalist Centerpiece: An extra-long, low-profile tray with a classic silhouette that brings calm structure to dining tables, consoles, and kitchen islands.
- Aged Iron Finish: Made from iron in an iron grey patina that adds depth and character, while staying neutral enough to mix with other finishes.
- Easy To Style: The elongated shape creates a ready-made “zone” for décor, corralling candles, vessels, and everyday objects so long surfaces feel intentional.
