

Tower Poker Table White Marble

A poker table that moonlights as a piece of furniture. A white Agariya marble top and an iron base give the Tower a design-forward surface, just as right in a living or dining space as on game night. An acacia wood frame grounds the piece with warmth underneath the cool stone. When the cards are away, it still earns its spot in the room. Play it, or just live with it.

- Furniture First: A marble-topped poker table designed to read as furniture, holding its own in a living or dining space well beyond game night.
- Marble And Iron: A white Agariya marble top meets an iron base, pairing cool natural stone with a grounded metal frame for a design-forward look.
- Acacia Wood Frame: An acacia wood frame brings warmth underneath the marble surface, grounding the table with natural grain that balances the cool stone above.
- Marble Character: Because the top is natural marble, veining varies piece to piece, so every Tower carries its own stone character no other table repeats.
