

FLUTED PLANTER

Large, Gray

The Large Fluted Planter may look like it's a treasure you'd find in an antique shop but it's brand new—it's made of composite in an aged finish that gives it its vintage personality. This is one of our products that illustrates the talent of our artisans who bring the striated texture to its surface as they apply the finish. For large terraces, public plazas, and sizable loggias, group this garden planter with the medium and small sizes in this family for a greater design statement. Each of these sizes reflects Phillips Collection's ethos: modern organic.
