

COMO

design by Angeletti / Ruzza

Como collection by Angeletti-Ruzza Design naturally fits into any setting regardless of its architectural style. The inspiration for this collection is its ability to reinterpret an Italian classic and give it a contemporary look.

Practical proportions in the steel tube frame combined with a decorative motived back, made with the same steel material, create a refined appearance. The collection consists of a chair and armchair, an armchair with high backrest, and a lounge and loveseat. Completing the collection are two round tables with an intricate interwoven base and metal tops
