

raawii

Hooks, coat racks designed by Nathalie Du Pasquier for Danish creative platform raawii, debut a new category for the brand's portfolio.

About Nathalie Du Pasquier

Nathalie Du Pasquier is an artist living and working in Milan, Italy. Born in Bordeaux, France and having established herself as a designer initially, she has primarily worked as a painter since 1987.

www.nathaliedupasquier.com

About raawii

raawii was founded in 2017 by Bo Raahauge Rasmussen and Nicholai Wiig-Hansen and is based in Copenhagen, Denmark. The brand references the initials of their last names. Both founders - one designer and educator, the other an economist and development expert – share the curiosity to work with creatives of different backgrounds and a deep passion for turning ideas into reality. Their ambition is to build a design platform using the power of creativity to contribute to cultural and social advancement.

www.raawii.dk

Nathalie Du Pasquier met raawii co-founders Nicholai Wiig-Hansen and Bo Raahauge Rasmussen in Milan. The collaboration playfully came about through discussions based on shared views and interests, rather than advance planning. The result is a series of wooden hooks – nothing more, nothing less.

Nathalie Du Pasquier designed the simple hooks with the idea of these being manufactured in Europe by artisans in the traditional, old-fashioned way. Their creation was primarily encouraged by the friendship with raawii's co-founders.

Hooks are available in three different sizes, three different color combinations and three different prices.

For press inquiries or additional photography, please contact pr@raawii.dk.