Freed of all oils, kerosene or cables, Sylvestrina is at hand, ready for any occasion. Named after a fisherman from the Costa Brava – Silvestre, a tall, lean, and elegant character-, it leaves barely a trace on the table, much like a wine bottle. A simple press on its base turns it on, adjusting the intensity between full, medium, or off.

Sylvestrina travels flat-packed for easy transport and disassembles into three components –the battery base, light source and surrounding screen–, ensuring easy repair and a long lifespan.
