

Hali End Table

112221

A fresh take on contemporary silhouettes, the Hali End Table pays homage to the natural beauty of travertine with the outdoor resilience of concrete. Each piece is carefully crafted from concrete that is finished with an intricate water transfer technique that recreates the unique veining and subtle variations found in natural travertine. Cinched with a decorative band that is hand-painted to resemble an antique brass metal finish that matches the base.
